Circus Under the Stars

One night, Clara noticed a strange, glowing tent set up on the outskirts of her town.

Drawn by its shimmering lights, she decided to sneak out after bedtime and see what it was all about.

To her amazement, this was no ordinary circus. Only appearing under a full moon, it was a magical spectacle of creatures from fairy tales! Unicorns pranced around, elves juggled glowing orbs, and to her surprise, a majestic dragon breathed fire into the night sky.

She watched as mermaids sang hauntingly beautiful songs from a large water tank, and tree-like creatures danced gracefully. Each act seemed more wondrous than the last. Near the tent's entrance, she met a friendly wizard who explained that the circus was a meeting point for magical beings from all realms. Once a month, they gathered to showcase their talents and share their stories.

The night eventually came to an end with a grand parade. All the magical creatures marched, leaving a trail of stardust behind. Clara knew it was time to head home. As she sneaked back into her bed, she clutched a small glowing feather, a souvenir from a night she'd never forget.
